LLOYD HARRIS ON OUR TRADE

found many Canadian manufactures ordering goods in the States that could be procured in Canada. He-declared that Canada was making the mistake that Britain made with Germany. She was too dependent upon the Great States at the present time.

We were bujure to the state of the States at the present time.

We were bujure has we were sell-tag to be, while at the same time we like the states of the States at the present time. The states of the States are the states of the States at the present time.

We were bujure has we were sell-tag to be, while at the same time we rewelling to the states of the States and to the British States four or five times the acquisit of goods that we were bujured to the States and the States a ing from them. This had resulted in the deplorable state is which the rate of exchange was in to-day. British was rectifying the unitable she had made in the past with the Germans, and Mr. Harris urged that Canada should make herself less dependent upon the United States. Me should develop her own resources, instead of and the should endeavor to buy more from them who bought so much from her.

r. Harris asserted that British aucracy, or red tape, was the test imaginable obstacle to trade (Canada. An example of this was licensing system which gave ed States goods free entry into ain while Canadian goods were mony at home, declaring that the French Canadian was a great seset to the country. In his address to the Women's Canadian Club earlier in the day, Mr. Harris warned the business man of Canada to deal honestly with

EDITORIAL NOTES.

EDITORIAL NOTES.
The opening words of King George's speech of prorogation before the British Parliament were: "My Lords and Members of the House of Commons." Whereas the usual form has been. "My Lords and Gestlemen of the House of Commons." The slight change in the wording, the Christian Science Monitor finds, being due to the presence of Lady Jator among the members, of the lower House.

Although thrift stamps have been declared a failure in this country, they declared a failure in this country, the seem to be a success in the Unite States. In Buffalo, for instance, it is shown that the children in the grammar schools of that city have saved $36,701 this year by investing their money in government thirft, and say large stamps. If other places yan show such a result, mullilions of dollars would be saved in this way.

The Old Reliable

This old reliable Shoe store has again won out. By sticking to the good old honest way of d. ng business—marking prices in plain figures and but one price to all. We do not practice the $9.99 for $5.95, etc. skin game system—consequently our 1919 business.

Is the Largest On Record

DAMP PROOF. Now is the fine to buy "Damp Proof" Shoes, as we are offering every pair at old prices, which is from $2.50 to $2.50 test hand present prices.

One line is a dark tau calkskin with a layer of rubber between the two outer soles—also a black of some. They were made by the best makers in the States—prices $12.00 and $12.50.

We have also three other lines with all leather soles at $8.00. $10.00 and $1.50.

All Shoes at Old Prices

All of our present stock, including our high grade Shoes, is being soid at old prices. When these are disposed of, then comes the big advance in prices.

OVERGAITERS AND RUBBERS. We have been doing big bulliass in these goods. A SMALL PROPIT and "big turnover" accounts for it. Our Spats are noted for QUALITY, STYLE and PIT.

I DISCOVER HIDDEN ARMS THAT MIGHT BE USED AGAINST THE U.S.

Bob, bound and bandaged and looking like a most pathetic hospital case, was carried out of the cave and placed on a blanket on the ground. Dr. Certeis stood near him while Don Manuel descended the side of the ravine in search of the burys. Even in the midst of my anxiety, it struck me as oddly interesting to discover that the bandits kept their pack mules in two stables. The outlaws who had been taken captive had not betrayed that fact. The network of caves and what they contained must be important, I argued caves and what they contained must be important. I argued to the most of the caves and what they contained must be important. I argued to the most of the caves and what they contained must be important. I argued the caves and the cave in the cave of the cave in the cave i of the works used it is a sour of the mountain and my and the earth; evanished behind a sour of the mountain and my thought and the present of the mountain and my thought and the more practical shape. As the burros felt their way with their elever books, along the narrow ledge of the steep and twisted trail. I wished that the automatic in my blouse were fitted with its proper elip of shells. It would be good to see Don Manuel throw up wide arms—and clutch at the atmosphere—and roll—roll—down the steep mountain side!
